

Her home was her nest egg.

Until some ahole built a McDuplex next door

This is the story of a woman who loved Austin too much. It began when she and her husband moved into a beautiful, historic neighborhood many years ago. While her husband was still alive, she invested their savings into other properties in their beloved neighborhood. It was a nest egg tied closely to the future of Austin. She trusted the Developers to play fair.

Now she could lose it all.

Some greedy bastards built 5,000 s.f. monstrosities on either side of her.

She hasn't see daylight in months, and her nest egg is wiped out. Tomorrow, she'll sell to a developer (at teardown value) and move into a bad nursing home.

Where she'll undoubtedly be abused.

Don't let this happen to poor Esther! Come to the City Council hearing on Thursday and make your voice heard.

www.dontsupersizeAustin.com